A Guiding Light

In the halls of memory, your presence we'll find,
A colleague, a mentor, your love intertwined,
Gone too soon, we miss your embrace,
The wisdom you shared, your unwavering grace.

With every tear that falls, every aching sigh,
We'll remember your guidance, reaching for the sky,
In the quiet moments, your memory we'll trace,
Wishing to hold you, in a tender, safe space.

A guiding light, a love we'll forever miss,
In the depths of our sorrow, a longing abyss,
Though you're gone, your love we'll carry,
In our thoughts, dear mentor, forever you'll tarry.
