

A Light Extinguished, Yet Undimmed

A light extinguished, yet undimmed,
In memory's embrace, our tears are brimmed,
A strong woman, with courage and grace,
We miss your presence, your warm embrace.
In quiet moments, we hear your voice,
A love unyielding, a life's choice,
Your strength and wisdom, a beacon bright,
We miss you dearly, through day and night.
Gone from this world, yet forever near,
A guiding spirit, in every tear,
We miss you, strong woman, a love so true,
In the whispers of the wind, we'll find you.
