

An Unfading Light

In the storm of your passing, we'll hold you near,
Remembering the love, the life
you held dear,
A great person you were, despite the strife,
In our hearts, your memory, will forever come to life.
With courage and wisdom, you faced every day,
A testament of love, that'll never fade away,
In the depths of our sorrow, we'll hold you tight,
An unfading light, in the darkest night.
A great person they were, in our hearts they'll reside, In the memories we hold, your love will forever guide, Though you've left us behind,
your light will persist,
An unfading light, in the hearts that you've kissed.
