

Gratitude in the Wind

We gather here to inter your ashes,
A tribute to a life, now past,
But in our hearts, your love still flashes,
A bond that's forged, a love to last.
Your kindness touched the souls of many,
A gentle breeze, a warm embrace,
We'll remember your smile, so bright and sunny,
A balm to heal, in life's fast pace.
In gratitude, we stand together,
For the love you shared, the lessons taught,
Your ashes may scatter, but your spirit will never,
In our hearts, your memory is caught.
