

Laughter in the Stars

The stars above, they twinkle bright,
A laughter shared in darkest night,
A memory of our dear friend
gone,
A love that lingers, a bond so strong.
I miss the jokes, the tales we'd share,
The moments of laughter,
beyond compare,
Our hearts entwined, a friendship
true,
A life that shined, a love that grew.
In quiet moments, I'll recall,
The laughter that could conquer
all,
My friend, forever in my heart,
A love that even death can't part.
