

The Echo of Taps

In the distance, we hear the echo of taps,
A mournful farewell, a love that'll last,
For the soldier we miss, so brave and true,
We'll remember their sacrifice,
our hearts feeling blue.
Through the battles they fought,
the burdens they bore,
Their memory lives on,
forevermore,
We'll cherish the laughter, the moments we shared,
In the silence of night, their love we'll declare.
Though they've marched on, to a faraway place,
In our hearts, their presence,
we'll forever embrace,
The echo of taps, a somber refrain,
We miss you, dear soldier, until we meet again.
