

Heal the Pain

Let me tell you a secret
Put it in your heart and keep it
Something that I want you to know
Do something for me
Listen to my simple story
And maybe we'll have something to show

You tell me you're cold on the inside
How can the outside world
Be a place that your heart can embrace
Be good to yourself
'Cause nobody else
Has the power to make you happy

Heal the pain that you're inside
Fix the things in your life
And you'll find the strength
That will guide your way
And you'll learn to begin
To trust the man within

Ah, we're creatures of habit
We can't see beyond the end of our noses
When everything fades, feeling hazy
We're brimming with tears
But the tears never come
We're frightened to be left all alone
But we're much better off
Than the ghosts of our souls
That's why I'm still here
To tell you, I love you

And when the clouds get too close
And the wind begins to blow
I want to be a fool for you
'Cause I'm a fool anyway

Heal the pain that you're inside
Fix the things in your life
And you'll find the strength
That will guide your way
And you'll learn to begin
To trust the man within

Heal the pain that you're inside
Fix the things in your life
And you'll find the strength
That will guide your way
And you'll learn to begin
To trust the man within

Heal the pain that you're inside
Fix the things in your life
And you'll find the strength
That will guide your way
And you'll learn to begin
